About Idaho National Laboratory

Idaho National Laboratory (INL) is the United States' preeminent nuclear research center. World-renowned as the birthplace of nuclear power, INL is home to some of the world's unique nuclear facilities, including the Advanced Test Reactor (ATR), EBR-I (the first nuclear reactor to generate electricity) and EBR-II, which sustained U.S. fast spectrum reactor research for 30 years and featured on-site fuel reprocessing.

INL continues today as a world-class contributor to nuclear research and development and leads U.S. research efforts into Generation IV and Global Nuclear Energy Partnership technologies.

Tour participants will visit EBR-I, ATR, several INL cleanup areas and the Materials and Fuels Complex (MFC). Tour price includes transportation for the tour and lunch.

Tour Schedule and Accommodations

Thursday, Sept. 2, 2010

8:00 a.m. Board INL tour bus at Shilo Inn

4:30 p.m. Return to Idaho Falls Shilo Inn

Tour Registration

To register, complete the tour registration form. If you are not a U.S. citizen, you will also need to complete the Request for Approval of Foreign National Visit form (PDF). We ask that you completely fill out and submit your registration and request for foreign national visit form by June 1, 2010 if you are a foreign national visitor, or just the tour request by July 29, 2010 if you are a U.S. Citizen. This will allow us time to process tour requests. Please fax your form to Teri Ehresman at 208-526-2930.
